

Legal Notice / Conditions of Use

The studies and information published on the internet pages of the research area of Bankhaus Lampe KG are directed towards institutional investors with registered offices in the European Union as well as in Switzerland and Liechtenstein and journalists from the business press to whom Bankhaus Lampe KG has voluntarily given access to these internet pages.

The studies and information are provided solely for information purposes and do not constitute an offer or request for the purchase or sale of financial instruments. They do not replace investment, legal or tax advice.

All the content and information provided on these internet pages was carefully researched and reviewed by Bankhaus Lampe KG or third parties. Bankhaus Lampe KG reserves the right to amend or supplement the information provided on the internet pages at any time without giving prior notice. Neither Bankhaus Lampe KG nor its affiliated companies nor the statutory representatives, members of the Supervisory Board and employees of these companies may provide any guarantees for the correctness of the information, its completeness and accuracy. The exclusion of liability also applies to internet pages which are referred to by means of a hyperlink. Bankhaus Lampe KG is not responsible for the content of internet sites reached via such links.

The preparation and dissemination of the studies and information are subject to the laws of the Federal Republic of Germany. Their dissemination in other jurisdictions may be limited by the laws or other legal regulations applicable there.

Persons with registered offices outside of the Federal Republic of Germany who come into possession of the studies published here must inform themselves of any restrictions applicable to them and must observe these. It is recommended that such persons contact the authorities in their countries responsible for the monitoring of financial instruments and the markets in which financial instruments are traded. Information must be obtained from such authorities as to whether any restrictions on acquisition are applicable to such persons in respect of the financial instruments to which the studies and content refer.

The information and studies made available may not be reprinted in full or in part or transferred to an information system or stored in any other manner whatsoever, either electronically, mechanically, by photocopy or in any other manner, unless prior consent has been obtained from Bankhaus Lampe KG in writing.

In addition, reference is made to the individual studies attached in the Disclosures. It is requested that these Disclosures are observed.
